The Army Painter Technique

Since the beginning of The Army Painter, since 2007, we have aimed to demystify the art of painting miniatures to also allow those of less artistic ability to turn out a wargaming army in record time. This aim has led us to develop certain unique speed-painting products of exceptional innovative and scientific quality - such as Quickshade and the Colour Primer basecoat sprays.

players can paint a wargames army to a very high gaming standard exceptionally fast.

We like to think there is a reason why we are the top independent manufacturer of assembling and painting accessories in our industry - and with the new retail display, we intend to stay there.

It will never be easy to paint a full army of miniatures, but following the simple four step The Army Painter technique,

SPRAY

With a great selection of colours, the wargamer can easily find a match for any type of army project, be it Sci-Fi, Fantasy or Historical. Primer and colour spray in one fantastic combination.

PAINT

With the now complete range of high quality Warpaints, Washes and Effects paints, the wargamer needs look no further for the right colours for his or her army project.

DIP

Here Science meets Hobby. Quickshade comes in three tones and quickly transforms a base-coated miniature to a miraculously fully-shaded and cool-looking one!

DONE

The "DONE" stage is the final step, where a matt or satin varnish removes the gloss effect of the Quickshade and basing is added for final effect.

Every Colour Primer has a corresponding 100% colour matching Warpaint

About The Army Painter..

“Warlord Games fully endorse the amazing The Army Painter system that transforms the poor painter to a good painter and a competent painter to a great painter!

So easy to use, with fabulous results, every time! Transform your painting life and get those armies on the table top looking better than ever in a quarter of the time..”

John Stallard
Warlord Games

“It's simply the most significant development in hobby painting for years. I take my hat off to them. Well done The Army Painter team. May your bristles never wilt!”

Rick Priestley
Creator of Warhammer & Black Powder

“The Army Painter help hobbyists all over the world get those big armies painted and ready for battle really fast! So when it came to Mantic choosing a paint partner there really was only one option.”

Ronnie Renton
Mantic Games

“After a life-times painting, I tend to mix and match the paints I use to get the best from different ranges - basic colours from one range, washes from another and metallics from a third.

The great thing about The Army Painter Warpaints range is that they have done that work for you! The basic colours are great - super smooth application, wonderful opacity and fantastic blending properties and the Quickshade Washes are quick and effective.

The Metallics are the best out there - very fine metallic flake so you won't get that sparkle effect that ruins so many range's metallic colours.

Thoroughly recommended!”

Features of the display unit

The Army Painter Paint Racking System offers a great customer experience - and to make it easy for you, it comes with all relevant shelf strips, header and pricing stickers already attached.

All you have to do is put the top and bottom together and screw on the wheels - and you're set to go!

General Price Sticker

Write the price you charge for each product on the display. Clear and simple for both customers and store staff.

Brush Price Sticker

Straightforward overview of the different brushes available and their price tag. The retailer can also easily see which brushes have sold out and need re-ordering.

Let's roll!

(Pun intended) - the wheels attached in the Display package are optional to use, but we do recommend them. Wheeled displays are much easier for store staff, who restock from the rear.

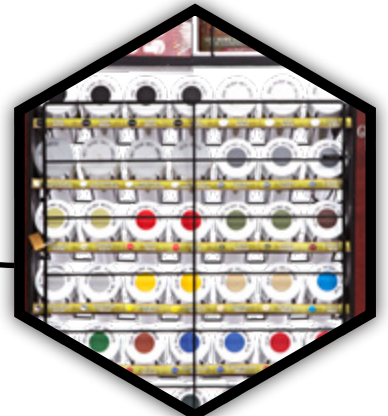

Shelf Strips

Both for Warpaints and Colour Primers it is important for the customer to know what colours are available - and very useful for the retailer to know what to restock and where to place it correctly.

FREE Painting Guides

Teaching how to use not just The Army Painter Technique, but also assembling and painting an army in general. They are free for you and free for the customer. Simply order more with your Distributor once you run out.

Legal Grill

It's a legal requirement in some US States that spray cans are locked behind a grill. The rack comes with a detachable grill for free. You just need to prove a suitable lock.

NEW!

The Army Painter Warpaints Air Racking System

Warpaints Air Range

Warpaints Air is a brand new range of Warpaints, designed especially for airbrush use. On the accomodating rack you'll find all 126 colours in the Warpaints Air range along with 100 ml bottles of primer, varnish, medium and cleaner developed for airbrush as well.

Our extremely popular, high-quality Coloured Metallic Warpaints are also to be found on this rack along with five of our bestselling boxed sets.

Even with all this goodness on the Air Racking System, we've still found room for yet another range, Speedpaints is at the very center of what The Army Painter is all about - getting you more time for gaming. Speedpaints gets you this by adding both shadow, highlight and base colour in a single stroke of the brush. Our brand new range of Speedpaints consists of the 24 most used colours when painting miniatures in a brand new modulation making it easier and faster to paint miniatures. Stay tuned for more info...

Airbrush colour triad system

All Warpaints Air are pre-mixed and airbrush-ready right out of the bottle and made from ultra-filtered vibrant pigment. The Warpaints Air range has been developed in a unique and innovative Triad System - each matching Warpaints Acrylics colour has a corresponding Base and Highlight colour. This makes highlighting and zenithal shading a breeze and army painting even faster and more cohesive.

Perfect consistency for airbrush - No thinning required

Ultra fine pigments retains every detail
